BORIS VUKIĆ

Senior Associate

Mr. Boris Vukić is the Co-founder and Partner of Adizes South East Europe. He is responsible for business development and regularly lectures and consults on the Adizes methodology in the Southeast Europe region.

Boris was first introduced to the Adizes Methodology September 1994. He was promptly trained and then Certified in phases I, II, and III in February 1997.

Over the past 20 years, Boris has provided services to over 100 companies.

He specializes in integrating teams of key managers to solve organizational transformation problems, coaching owners and founders through the transition process from entrepreneurship to professional management and the transfer of practical knowledge, tools and management wisdom to young professionals wanting to try their hand at managing.

Boris has been the featured speaker and presenter at a number of conferences and has always been noted for his convincing and engaging presentations.

Boris is the editor of the Adizes SEE Newsletter and has edited numerous management books. He has written more than twenty articles on organizational development and actively contributes to management periodicals in Serbia, Croatia and Bosnia and Herzegovina. He also wrote the forwards in the Serbian editions of Dr. Adizes' and Bo Jaghult's books.

Boris Vukić is married and is the father of two children. He lives with his family in Novi Sad, Serbia.
