BARRY BOWATER

Adizes Associate

As a Certified Adizes Associate, Barry facilitates management consulting sessions and leadership seminars across Canada. His specialty is in faith-based organizations and small to mid-sized companies.

He began his professional career as an educator in Ontario, Canada following his graduation from Concordia University (Sir George Williams University) in Montreal in 1967.

In 1973, Barry and his wife Wendy began a career in the not-for-profit, faith based sector. In 1984, working with Campus Crusade for Christ, they founded the Christian Embassy in Ottawa (A ministry to politicians and diplomats). From 1999 to 2003 Barry coordinated the Power to Change media campaigns across Canada and in Ireland. Barry has also served as the Chief of Staff for the Minister of Energy, Mines and Resources, within the Government of Canada in Ottawa and as the National Director of Youth for Christ, Canada.

Barry was first introduced to the Adizes methodology in 1989 and when he was tapped to be an in-company change leader, deploying the Adizes methodology within his organization. Since then he has developed into a full associate, working with various organizations within various industries across Canada.

Barry also utilizes the Adizes principles in his responsibilities with the Government of Canada, Youth for Christ, Canada and Trinity Western University.

Barry and Wendy have four children and 7 grandchildren and they reside in Abbotsford, British Columbia, Canada.
