As a certified Adizes Associate and Managing Director of the Orange County - CA office, Yann Audebert focuses on presenting the concepts of the Adizes Methodology and delivering consulting services to a diverse range of organizations in term of size and industries. His international expertise as a top executive for large multinationals companies brings exceptional insights to the facilitation of organizational change programs.

Before joining Adizes, Yann spent 23+ years building and leading emerging businesses for leading CPG organizations (Groupe Danone, Grupo Lala, Jose Cuervo Group) as well as small entrepreneur ventures (Tequila Casa Dragones, Sopexa) across Europe, Mexico and the US. Whether entering new markets, launching new products, revitalizing mature businesses, integrating acquisitions or building high performing teams, he has earned a reputation for changing businesses, consumer and trade perceptions, while outperforming well-entrenched competition and established brands.

In addition to his work with Adizes, Yann continues to serve as an advisor to the board of several international companies providing strategic guidance for their commercial operations.

Fluent in French, Spanish and English, he holds a degree in Business & Administration from IPAG Paris Business School and lives in Laguna Beach, CA with his wife and three kids.
