As a certified Adizes Associate, Juan Jose works in Mexico and the United States teaching the Adizes methodology and guiding clients through The Adizes Program for Organizational Transformation. He has problem solving experience in several industries including aerospace, automotive, construction, industrial supply, foods, and many others. Juan Jose is an avid entrepreneur who co-founded an Internet company providing specialized HR services.

Mr. Flores co-founded and oversaw a non-profit organization dedicated to promoting business ethics and social responsibility among university students and companies in Nuevo Leon, Mexico. His work included managing the relationships with companies funding the project, developing new programs for the students, creating new initiatives, then deploying a sense of social responsibility through the young men and women who participated in the program. Juan Jose remains active as a member of the non-profit board and a lecturer.

Mr. Flores also worked as a business consultant for two regional consulting firms serving clients in the southern states of Mexico. He oversaw the development of new businesses and the deployment of tools to maintain KPIs in several organizations. His work also included the implementation of the 5 Sís program in several production companies. Mr. Flores holds a Business Administration Degree and a Master's in Business Innovation from the Tecnológico de Monterrey.

Juan Jose lectures in English and Spanish. He lives in Monterrey, Mexico.
